MEDIA SURFACE NOTES

Whereas the two premium papers offer the greatest saturation of color and definition, matt images have a "natural" feeling to them. Watercolor paper surface is rather textured and provides an additional organic feeling but the colors tend to be more subdued. Canvas prints are rather durable and are great for backdrops because of their non-glare quality. These can be prepared for out of doors use; contact us by email for this special order item. Transparency prints are great for those that want to backlight the Natural Mandala image in a variety of venues. Other paper media are available, if you have a specific request for this image to be printed on, please contact Mr. Oxley via email at rexoxley@msn.com

GICLEE PRINT QUALITY

All images are printed on the highest archival quality paper media. This artist uses Epson brand printers, inks and media exclusively, so you know that you will be getting the highest standard of archival, gallery quality prints. Giclee prints provide superior color accuracy and incredible detail more than other means of reproduction. Epson's light-fast ink employs an additional UV protective coating (also scratch resistant), which ensures that your print will have the color vibrancy and longevity to endure for several lifetimes.

These and other related products will soon be available.

NATURAL MANDALA NOTE CARDS AVAILABLE IN FOUR SETS

These card sets feature a full mandala image and detailed images of many ornamental designs within its architecture.

NATURAL MANDALA Color-By-Hand Poster

This is a 44" x 44" line drawing of the mandala printed on matte paper; it is suitable for coloring with any media that you choose. It's great for children and adults, and very popular with teachers.

THE BOOK OF THE NATURAL MANDALA

This is an exhibit study guide to the Natural Mandala. It includes many photos, the "making of" sketch-work, conceptual commentary and a full dissertation about the mandala, the spiritual essence of fine art, essays on beauty and creativity, ornamentation and the architecture of nature.
